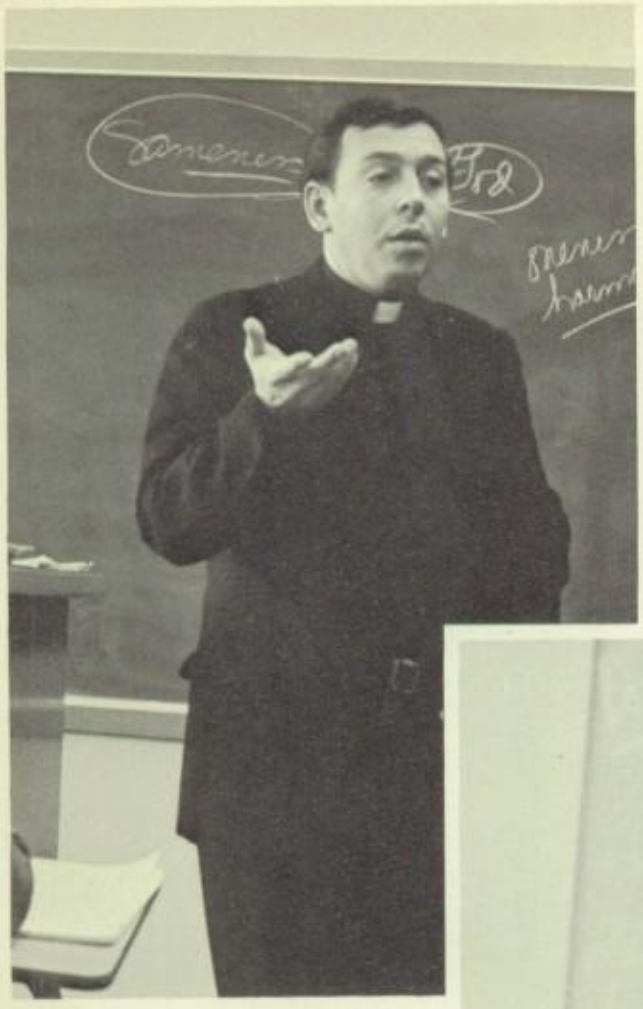
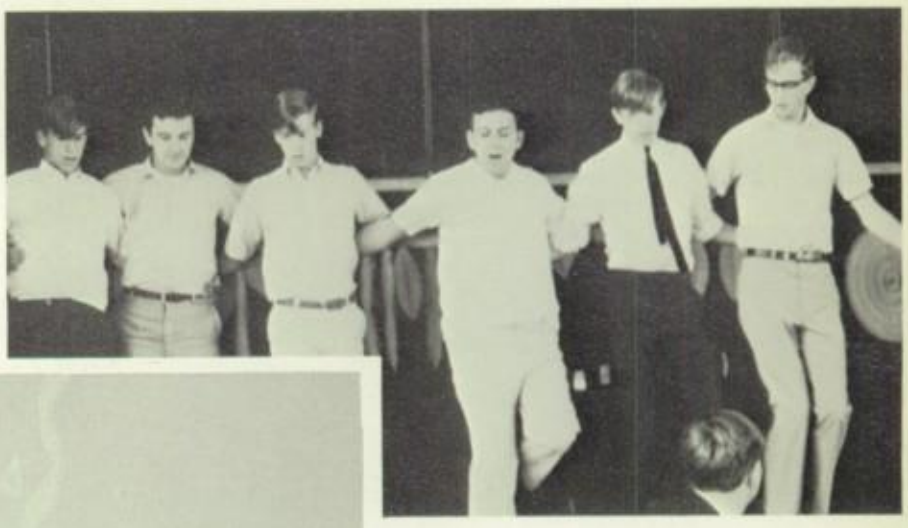
Volume II: Presented by the Senior Class of:

BISHOP McNAMARA HIGH SCHOOL

Forestville, Maryland

. . . dedication . . .





Our school was in existence for two years, before his arrival on the scene. Only after that did we begin to "live a little." He has often been quoted as saying, "give of yourselves." This being his principle, he set about doing what should be done. It would truly be a difficult task if you were to attempt to find a phase of our school life without his mark of influence. In a spirit of recognition and gratitude, we DEDICATE to BROTHER FRANCIS BRUNO C.S.C. this second annual of the MUSTANG '68.

Activities

STUDENT

Establishment of a firm faculty-student relationship is the real goal of the Student Council. Representatives elected by the student body assist the faculty in maintaining school regulations, and, in regular meetings, voice suggestions for the betterment of Bishop McNamara.

ATHLETICS COMMITTEE:
SITTING (L. TO R.): J. Deane, R. Krumpe, M. Hacker, P. Bozick, S. Hruska, S. Bartalsky, J. Brick, M. Tereyla, P. Duffy, P. McCormick, STANDING: S. Severn, L. Maimone, A. Gray, T. Miller, M. Mattingly.

CATHOLIC ACTION COMMITTEE:
P. Bernier, R. Bedard, G. Ortman, S. Wilson.

COUNCIL

This year, the chief task accomplished by the Council was the drawing up of the school constitution. Coordinating the many phases of school life, the Council is responsible for planning social functions and supporting activities. Cooperation, spirit, and service truly characterize McNamara's Student Council.

"We all have our 'Crosses' to bear."

"King Arthur and his knights!"

CONSTITUTION COMMITTEE:
SITTING (L. TO R.): E. Grysavage, J. Cross, L. Maimone, S. Severn, T. Miller, G. Ortman, STANDING: J. Weatherly, and J. Jenkins.

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE:
N. Gleason, D. Studds, C. Shunk, D. Baker.

Gallagher, and Brother Walter Krammar, C.S.C.

McNamara Players

Under the direction of Brother Walter Krammar, C.S.C. the McNamara Players have conscientiously built appreciation in the fine arts here at McNamara. Their impressive performances not only better the reputation of the school, but also develop the personality of each participating student.

The largest cast thus far, twenty-six, presented the smashing successful comedy, THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER, around Thanksgiving time. Having been well received by all, our Thespian group marched on for the finale, by presenting the suspense-packed drama, SUBMERGED.

The McNamara Players are adeptly proving the point that "all the world's a stage."

"You said that Ex-Lax did this to you?"

"Here I am in PLAYBOY – 1932"

PRODUCTIONS

A WELL DESERVED BOW

"The Mafia awaiting its prey."

Stage Crew

Behind every successful McNamara production there stands a stage crew. Sworn to reserve all major adjustments until the last minute, this group has artfully managed to sandwich traces of work and production between rest and coke periods. But, even in view of this seemingly organized chaos, none can deny the truly creative works and sets that have suddenly appeared in their finished states on Opening Night, much to the exhausted relief of Brother Francis Bruno C.S.C., their director. Stationed behind drawn curtains, and ever in the shadow of brilliant lights, the stage crew has taken great pride in its work, and given great pride to its school.

"We're having Beef-A-Roni!"

MUSIC

FIRST ROW: L. Filippelli, T. Hasko, N. Gleason, J. Henson, S. Flanagan, M. McHale, P. Messina; SECOND ROW: D. Bailey, P. Cooke, R. Cole, F. DiZebba, D. Bordelon, A. Eucare, J. Wells, T. Bartolomeo, T. Karpovich, C. Bragdon, J. Barrett, J. Gleason, R. Dilley; THIRD ROW: J. Koppers, J. Jaggers, P. Burley, R. Yacuoby, T. Roesle, P. Salvagni, R. DiCocco, N. Brown, R. Mellin, G. Schneider, S. Wallmark, T. Davey, C. Francis, J. O'Loughlin, C. Kinch, R. Campbell, D. Lyon, D. Duenas, S. Curtin, D. Gilman, G. Salvagni; FOURTH ROW: R. Williams, M. Mason, W. O'Brien, D. Murphy, R. Overton, L. Podany, D. Lamarre, T. Paul, M. Mello, P. Baiers, G. Stepanek (Not Shown: R. Dearstyne, A. Ford and J. Howard).

McNamara has two fine bands of which its students can be proud: the Marching Band and the Concert Band; both under the direction of Brother Robert Antonetti, C.S.C. Whenever one finds himself at a McNamara football game, he is sure to see the best band in the area add pep to each quarter of play and perform zesty halftime entertainment for the viewers.

The Concert band, also rated as one of the best in the area, exhibits its exceptional playing ability and professional demeanor at the seasonal concerts. These two bands are always sure to display the McNamara "know-how" and talent.

The Catholic Students' Mission Crusade has as its threefold program: prayer, study, and sacrifice. This is the object of the CSMC, and the club tries, wherever possible, to promote this program in all activities it sponsors. Having adopted a constitution and started a Paladin Committee, they have delved into the missionary and social problems of our times.

Young Christian Students offer students the opportunity to discuss and act upon problems we come across in school, in our parish, and in our own daily lives. It trains its members in leadership and teaches them not only how to express themselves, but to listen to others, all in a spirit of action.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Members: S. Sappey, N. Gleason, J. Weatherly, S. Sylvester, T. Urquhart, R. Moskaites, G. Ortman, M. Fowler. (Jim Jenkins – not shown)

The Bishop McNamara chapter of the National Honor Society is one of the youngest clubs in the school, having been established in early March, 1967 under the competent direction of Brother Lewis James, C.S.C. The purpose of the National Honor Society is to recognize and encourage among its members those qualities essential to the complete man and to the success of all students: character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Members are elected by a faculty board using the aforementioned qualities as standards of admission. Active members are elected from the senior and junior classes. Provisional members are chosen from the sophomore class. Highlight of the society's calendar is the induction ceremony for new members.

STAMPEDE

In the tradition of all good newspapers, the Stampede has exhibited a sensitive feel for "what's happening." By renaming the paper, the staff has definately given it a new outlook regarding school life. This "outlook" is one of "facing the issue."

With Brother Harry Pratt, C.S.C. moderator, acting merely as supervisor, the staff is freer than ever to project true student opinion.

Now that articles are being submitted by the student body at large, the purpose of the paper as a "student mode of expression" has taken on new meaning for student and faculty members alike.

"Anybody got a caption for this picture?"

"One, two, three . . . ve vill make da date!!!

This year marks the second publication of the MUSTANG. Last year's staff worked diligently, made mistakes, gained experience, had fun and enjoyed a tremendous success. The same could be true of this year. Learning from the past and picking-up at the level of quality attained last June, the yearbook staff struck out to explore new horizons. Under the generalship of Jim Jenkins and Mike Fowler the staff made significant gains in its journalistic aspirations. The hard work of George Carter and Sam Schiattareggia was outstanding but typical. Photograghy, vital to any yearbook, was ably handeled by Pete Holland and others. The value of the supervision of Mr. Rash, moderator, was priceless. We toiled, stumbled, learned, enjoyed ourselves and hoped for the best. This book of memories is the testament to the faith that the staff held throughout the year.

RADIO CLUB

Bishop McNamara High School communicates with the world through its Radio Club. Under the direction of Mr. Louis Aymard, it attempts to foster a knowledge of electronics and International Morse Code necessary for amateur radio communications. The club's station has made contact with radio operators in all parts of the the world.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club has as its aims the development of scientific curiosity, the strengthening of one's background in an interesting field, and to a limited extent, a promotion in science or engineering careers. Club activities include student presentation of original hobbies or projects, an occasional movie in the field, and talks by visiting scientists or technicians.

A paint brush doesn't mean much – a pallette of rainbows can only reveal color;
an abstract painting expresses some mood –
an artist can't explain what he has done,
he has done it – it is there –

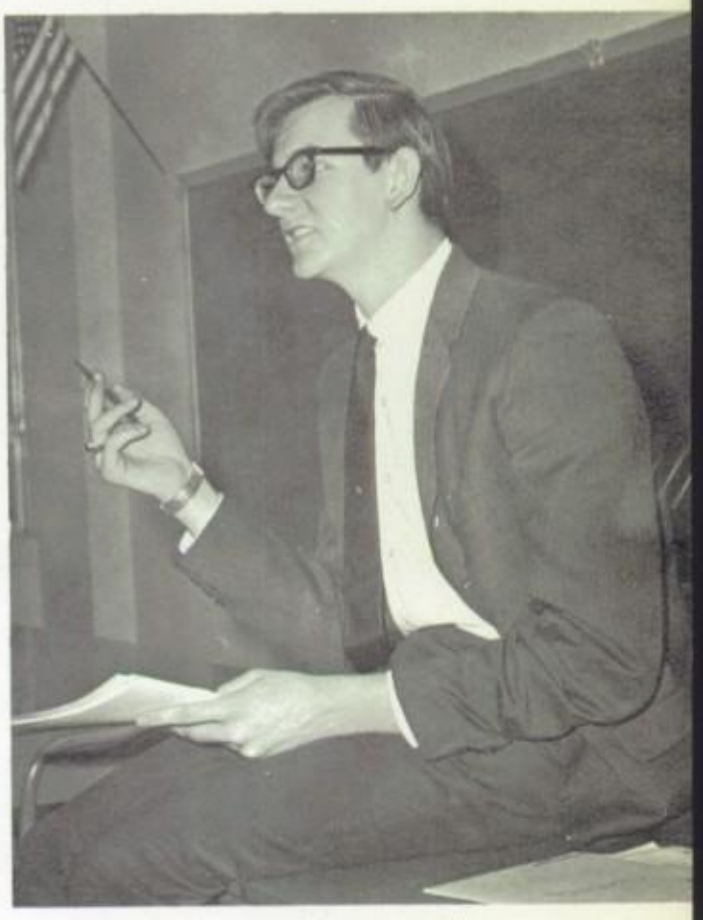
I could show you the temples of Greece, take a photo, and there's nothing there.
draw a line – blindfolded – nothing there.

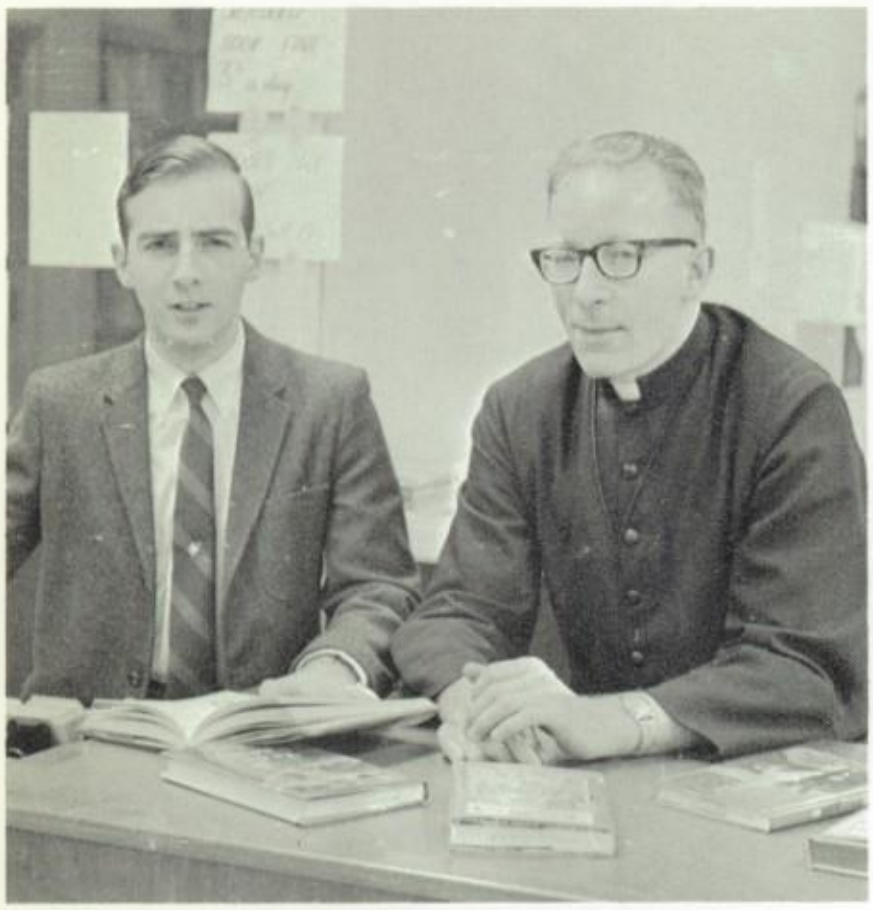


"Veni–Vidi–Vici!"

CHESS CLUB

Chess provides a natural background for scholastic success. The Chess Club has not only endeavored for scholastic success but good sportsmanship as well. A Fall and Spring Tournament provided them with an excellent knowledge of the game and their classmates. Meeting weekly, the club is now well established in the McNamara Spirit.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS



Bill and Brother Richard stop work for a pix.

Few people around the school campus do so much and are heard of the least as the Library Assistants. Under the able leadership of Brother Richard Eckhardt they have made the McNamara library a smooth operating business from its meager beginnings.

"You hold the shelf for a while!"

DEBATE TEAM

The McNamara Debate Team has produced favorable results in top varsity debating competition. The purpose of the Debating Club is to promote academic competition in a formal contest using the skills of reasoned argument. This is McNamara's first year in varsity debating, and it plans to take an active participation in college-sponsored tournaments in the coming years.

Enthusiasm is the heart of a school. The Cheerleaders fire this enthusiasm and keep it alive at our athletic activities and pep rallies.

Formerly active during football season, the Cheerleaders, presently consisting of seven members, encouraged spirited involvement in all games and rallies.

WEIGHT-LIFTING CLUB

The weightlifting club strives to cultivate a young man's physical characteristic of fitness and strength to help him realize his importance as a man, and to promote friendly competition on an individual basis. We have approximately 15 Mr. McNamaras in our club. They have worked hard for themselves and their school.

Going up in the world.

"What! A giant ameba?"

Any institution's greatness depends on its future. The Sophomore class is our future. McNamara is confident that from this group will come the leaders to place this school's name into the everyday vocabulary of the people of the area. With the seeds of zeal, athletics, scholarship and leadership already in sight, the Class of '70 will take this great step forward.

THE THINKER???

'71

The school year has gone by fast. However, it is only the end of the beginning for the Class of '71. This year has been one of a struggle for identification and an introduction to a high school education. It has been challenging but on any road, you must be able to walk it, and walk it knowing that it is a long road.

Passing Down MC Tradition

WOMEN'S GUILD

"OUR MOMS"

The ladies at work.

On all the McNamara scenes for the past four years, our moms have diligently supplied the MC activities after shows with their refreshments. They have also carried through our Chocolate Drive and through donations and their own time, started our library on its own feet.

TO THESE DEDICATED MOTHERS, WE OFFER OUR HEARTFELT THANKS!

Miss America of 19??

"Mmmm--Good!"

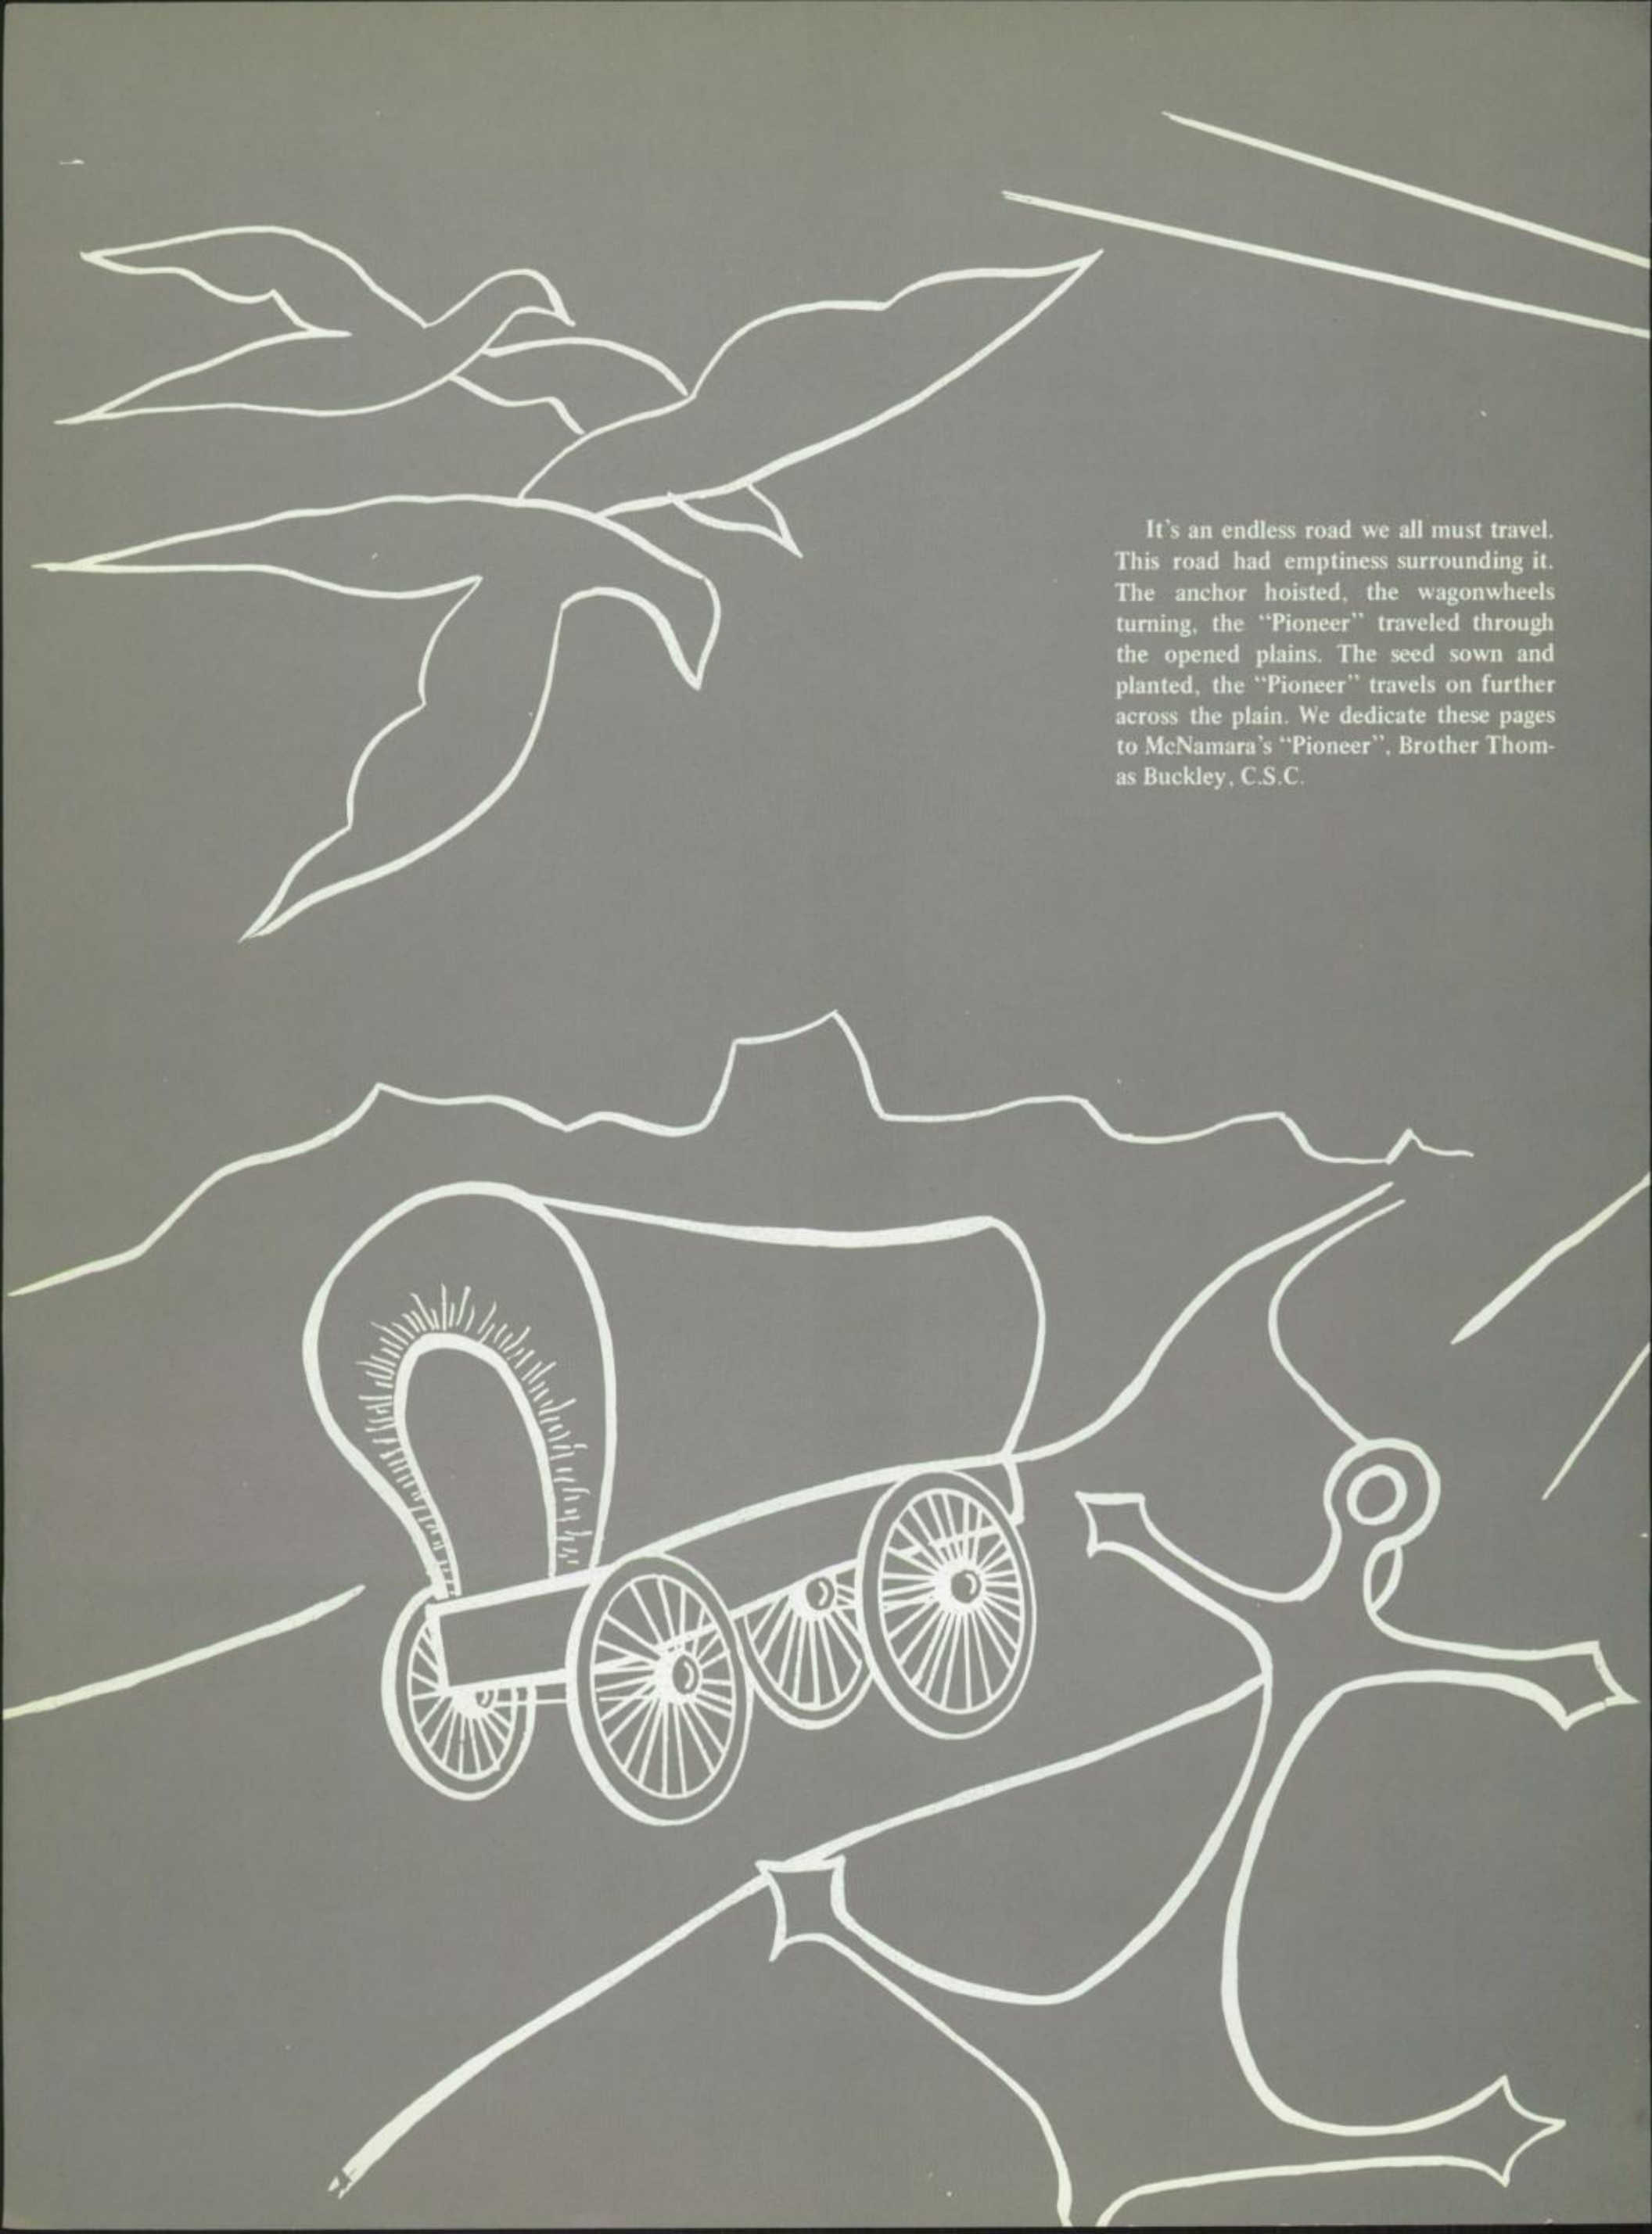
FATHER'S CLUB

The big payoff.

Dedicated people are hard to find. It involves concern and desire to give of yourself to a cause where improvement is seen. The Father's Club has produced some amazing improvisions to a point of achieving recognition as a group of dedicated men. Our Mustang Raffle Drives and practically all activities of the Father's Club have been a perpetual strive to expand, improve, and provide our athletic department with a building foundation for the McNamera Mustangs. These dedicated men have gone unheralded, but their work has greatly influenced our school life.

"We're missing two cents&%$'*?$&'–"

A good goal.



It's an endless road we all must travel. This road had emptiness surrounding it. The anchor hoisted, the wagonwheels turning, the "Pioneer" traveled through the opened plains. The seed sown and planted, the "Pioneer" travels on further across the plain. We dedicate these pages to McNamara's "Pioneer", Brother Thomas Buckley, C.S.C.

The J.V. football squad's of the 1967 season compiled the best record of a J.V. team at McNamara. The 3-4 record included an exciting 7-6 victory over the Catholic League foe, Gonzaga. Brother Fryes' little 'Stangs had a feared passing attack, together with a touch defense. The J.V. team, mostly sophomores feel that in a couple of years they can make McNamara charge to the top as a number one football team. The outlook for the future appears very promising in all categories of Mustang football.

"A 4-to-1 ratio seems to be very uneven".

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Art Rice goes to the hoop

The McNamara Mustangs, although still a young team, took on a tough schedule this year. Defeat was certainly no stranger to the Mustangs, yet they had guts and plenty of spirit to keep fighting till season's end. With the return of many varsity players and much new talent coming up, McNamara is looking forward to a better future in basketball.

BASEBALL

The Shape of a Diamond

Under a new hand of coaching, and carrying a new spirit onto the diamond, the battering nine of McNamara set out to prove that fire on the field can match the fire in the heart. With Dan Burch and Jack Courtillet returning to help stabilize the infield, the team has gelled together to back the vicious pitching of teammates, such as Phil Gozzi. Fitzpatrick again carries a heavy stick and the whole team has joined to promoting the batter idea. The Mustang Horse-riders put a strong foot forward toward a winning tradition.

Jack Courtillet brings in another run for the hammerin' Mustangs.

GOLF

U.S. Open?

With the fine record the golf team has accumulated in the past years, it certainly deserves rank as an important asset to the athletic department at Bishop McNamara. Returning players for the '68 spring season included prestigious Chris Piggot, elected Junior Golfer of the year for 1967, the concentrating Sophomore Chris Vanderman, and James Lohman, our expert putter. As a team, all the players have always demonstrated good sportsmanship, spirit, and company, so important in the fine game of golf.

Seniors

Although it was the second graduating class, the Class of '68 was first in many other ways. Just one of these was that this class was the first to complete the full four year course of studies here at McNamara. Their accomplishments remain for others to match . . .
